- Changes since last Control Map

Changes for July 23 update: On July 23, ISIS took control of the Badush dam (under construction) and nearby facilities northwest of Mosul after Peshmerga forces withdrew from the area. Sadia is an area seeing clashes between ISIS and other anti-government groups against the ISF and Peshmerga. Although still controlled by the Peshmerga, ISIS has targeted Sinjar since July 17, which is why its status is now changed to an area ISW is watching.
